School's winding down, time to set up camp

Tutors, mentors help prepare students for camp experience

Most Whiz Kids students do not have the opportunity to go on a family vacation. Summer can actually be a time of angst for many children, because they no longer have the structure that school, school-related activities and Whiz Kids provides.

This is why our summer-camp partnership with King's Domain Conference & Retreat Center is so critical. Summer camp has become just as much a part of Whiz Kids as tutoring.

Whiz Kids is asking that you help ensure your student has the opportunity to experience camp. Please encourage your students and their parents to register and complete the necessary paperwork required. (Applications are being provided for each tutoring site, and camp information sessions will be held in the coming weeks.)

The cost to send one child to camp for a week is $350 (transportation, meals, programming and facilities), and parents are being asked to pay a $25 fee per child. The application deadline is May 20 (fee included).

If you or your student's parents have questions, please contact us at 513-345-1076 or whizkidscamp@citygospelmission.org.

"I did have a little anger problem before I went to camp. I was very rude to my mom; if I didn't get my way, then I'd disrespect her. But I feel like once I went to camp, it wasn't like that anymore. I listened and obeyed the counselors, and I realized if I can do it here, then I can do it at home." – D'Asia, Whiz Kid
