

Princesses Ballet Fact Sheet

What is Princesses Ballet?

Princesses Ballet is one of City Gospel Mission's youth programs that help uplifts girls by building character and self-esteem. This after-school program is designed to teach girls the value of teamwork and work ethic through regular practices. The program began in 2005 with 8 girls and has grown to serve over 500 girls. To hear girls talk about why they like Princesses Ballet visit: bit.ly/CGM-Princesses

What is a typical dance class like?

Most dance classes last one-and-a-half hours: beginning with warm-up, strengthening and stretching exercises, prayer, dance instruction, then a lesson that teaches life principles.

"Since our family has been with the Princesses Ballet team, I have watched my oldest daughter grow out of being bashful and introverted. With this opportunity to attend ballet and perform, she has become a confident leader to her sibling and peers."

- Danni and Payton's Mom

Whom does the Princesses Ballet program serve?

The program serves girls ages 4 to 18 from 19 sites throughout Greater Cincinnati. The majority of participants in the program are from lower income homes. The instruction is provided free of charge. Most of the girls could not otherwise afford dance lessons of any kind.
